

Nick Harvey et al, Our Nation's Duty was published by the Liberal Democrats in December 2007.

In it, he complains of a "mismatch" between government rhetoric and reality of life for servicepeople.

The report proposes:

Complete withdrawal from Iraq. A commitment to avoid future commitments without required resources. New Strategic Defence Review. Written covenant for all three services. Greater scrutiny of spending on services. A "military Covenant Committee" reviewing annual status of the covenant. Improvement of mental/physical healthcare for services. Improved accommodation
